Sealy Outdoors Big Bass Splash on Lake Fork

Mud, mud and more mud was the scenery at the 32nd Annual Sealy Outdoors Big Bass Splash held on Lake Fork September 21, 22, 23, 2018. Mother Nature was not kind to the anglers nor to the tournament. With constant rains during the course of the tournament, Bob and his staff made the best of a bad situation making it as comfortable and safe as possible for anglers and spectators. It took twenty-one bales of hay spread out to make the walkways safe for all.

With $497,000 guaranteed in cash and prizes, there were 2,398 entries into the tournament. These anglers representing states across the country came to compete.

On day one of the tournament there were 317 bass weighed in for a total weight of 649.01 pounds. The excitement started early with three bass over the slot weighed in the first hour. Rusty Miller from Elmer, Louisiana weighed in a 8.96-pound bass, Ricky Allen from Longview, Texas weighed in a 7.75-pound bass and Todd Anderson from Ovilla, Texas weighed

"Bubba Practices For Halloween All Year Long!"

By: Don Hampton

Bubba's favorite holidays are coming up and he is geared up and ready for them. He loves Thanksgiving and Christmas mainly because of all the great food, the get-togethers, (as he calls them), and of course getting new stuff! One of his favorite holidays and Bubbette's worst is Halloween.

This is one "Spooktacular Holiday" that Bubba practices year round. He's like an oversized lapdog when it comes to the treats and a scary movie when it comes to the tricks. He is most childlike on Christmas morning opening his presents and getting new stuff, but he is even more so when it comes to jumping out and scaring someone.

He practices mostly on Bubbette and how either of them has survived these many years is a testimony to "True Love"! On more than one occasion she has threatened his health with a rolling pin but Bubba doesn't take the threats too seriously. I couldn't even tell you if he hears them over his own laughter.

Bubba practices his scare tactics constantly to stay in true form. He has Bubbette shaky like a squirrel on a highline every time she walks in the house. The only time he is quiet is when he's about to spring with a goulish holler. It doesn't even matter to him if she has an arm full of groceries. If the timing and setting is right, he'll make his move and then laugh for days afterwards. To Bubba harmlessly scaring someone is one of the funniest things in life. He really must have had a missed childhood or else he just doesn't wish to grow out of it!

I do believe that Bubba bought Bubbette a new car, not for her benefit but rather for his entertainment. As is with most new vehicles this one has an alarm system with remotes. For the first week they had it Bubba couldn't stop laughing and it wasn't from the joy of having a new vehicle. Every time Bubbette would go to get in her car Bubba would be hiding around the corner. Her hand would no sooner touch the car door than Bubba's finger would push the alarm button. With the alarm and horn blaring, and lights flashing, Bubbette would be jumping around thinking she did something wrong, while Bubba would be rolling on the ground with laughter. Needless to say that only lasted for a week because he no longer has a set of keys and alarm remote to Bubbette's new car.

Bubba doesn't just practice his scare tactics on Bubbette while at home. Even the dog and cat have to hide from him. He'll catch them in one of their deep naps, sneak up as close as possible, get on his hands and knees and commence barking and growling like a maddog. Yes, Bubba has been bitten by his own dog, scratched by his own cat, and clobbered by his own wife.

One of the reasons Bubba can't keep a partner on the "Team Tournament Trail" he fishes isn't because of the number of fish caught. It is because their heart can't take it! Bubba watches his partners closely to make sure they are on their toes during a tournament. If they seem to be day dreaming when the action slows down, he has a rude awakening for them too! He will catch them in one of their relaxed moods and then set his plan in motion. He will intentionally get his lure hung up while they are not watching. Once he has it securely stuck he'll jump up excitedly and holler, "It's a big one get the net!" At this time he has his rod bent going from side to side acting like he has a real hog on the end of the line. This gets his partner throwing his rod down, scrambling all over the boat to get the net and ready to do his job. When his partner finally gets the net ready Bubba will roll with laughter and say, "Just kidding I'm hung up and wanted to see if you were still with me!" I think Bubba has probably been bit, scratched, and clobbered by some of his fishing partners too! He has had five different fishing partners in the past four seasons and not even that will stop Bubba's sense of humor or his enjoyment of a good laugh.

Maybe there is a lesson for all of us here to learn from Bubba. It is possible that if we all kept a childlike quality in our hearts and didn't take ourselves quite so seriously we could find the smaller things in life much more humorous. Then we would all be able to laugh at the bites, scratches and clobberings that life has to offer.

one day is $120 or $170 for both days.

For anglers participating this will be one of the most exciting tournaments of the year. With the cooler temperatures setting in, the bass are sure to be feeding up and respond well to both Berkley hard and soft baits. Check out some of the new baits they've come out with this year, especially the General.

There will be 20 places paid per hour during the two-day tournament starting at $1,000 for 1st place, down to $150 for 10th place; 11th thru 15th place win an Abu Garcia Reel and 16th thru 20th place win Abu Garcia Rods.

For the lucky angler that catches the heaviest bass over the slot, that angler will be taking home a new Skeeter ZX-200, powered by Yamaha, MinnKota trolling motor, and Lowrance electronics. For the heaviest bass under the slot, that angler will be taking home a new Skeeter ZX-190, powered by Yamaha, MinnKota trolling motor, and Lowrance electronics.

This tournament is not only a great fishing experience but also terrific entertainment for the entire family. Fish Fishburne will be present with a laugh or two and WFN will be on hand filming the television show. There will be drawings from the empty Berkley bait bags for all the anglers and just a great time for all.

Check out Berkley's new baits, I highly recommend them. My favorites are the full line of War Pigs, the Digger, and of course the General.

Hourly updates can be heard on KMOO radio station 99.9 FM. I hope to see everyone there. For more information and details check out their ad on Page 24-A or go to their website; www.basschamps.com or for more details you can call them at 817-439-3274.

All the Little Anglers that participated are to be congratulated for their accomplishments. The smiles on those children's faces were heartwarming.

Winning 1st place overall with a weight of 11.15-pounds was Charles Blundell. He took home his hourly winning plus a 2018 Triton 19TRX powered by Mercury, a RAM truck plus $7,000. Coming in 2nd place with a weight of 9.72-pounds was John Pierstoff. He took home his hourly winnings, a 2018 Triton 18TRX powered by Mercury, a RAM truck and $2,000. Winning 3rd place overall was Cory Reynolds with 9.28-pounds. He took home his hourly winnings plus a 2018 Triton 18TRX powered by Mercury plus $1,000. In 4th place was Chance Lewis with a weight of 9.25-pounds. He took home his hourly winnings plus $8,000. In 5th place with a weight of 9.17-pounds was Jimmy Thomas. He took home his hourly winnings plus $6,000.

In the elimination drawing Manuel Beasley from Jackson, Mississippi took home a 2018 Triton 189TRX powered by Mercury.

One of the incentives in Sealy Outdoors Tournaments on Lake Fork is the even weight bass of 2.50-pounds and all pay-outs are guaranteed. No bass of this weight came to the scales during the tournament. For this there was a drawing for that prize money. Taking home a surprising $5,000 for their name being drawn was William N. Reed from Longview, Texas, Michael D. Reed from Jonesboro, Louisiana, and James T. Leftwich from Derby, Kansas.

Migration Means "Game On" On Fork

By David Ozio

"It's about that time! The fall bass feedfest is just around the corner and it will be "Game On" on Lake Fork. This section of the year is one of my favorites as bass start to migrate to the backs of the creeks following their favorite food source which is shad. Surface temps are starting to drop which triggers the bass to start moving and the plan will be to fish around the ensuing cold fronts to tag a trophy of a lifetime. Another value add will be that hunting season is upon us and that means less traffic on the pond. The only negative we will be dealing with constitutes lake turnover. This will affect the deep bite for a while until the water stabilizes.

see brown bubbles floating on the surface across the lake. The occurrence doesn't happen all at once but in stages according to the strength of the cold fronts as they pass. Not all parts of the lake will turnover at once as some areas cool faster than others. This phenomenon usually lasts about three weeks beginning in late September and throws bass fishing into a tail spin especially for the deep fish. During this transition period, you will need to read the conditions and adapt accordingly. Fall will usually issue in more cloudy days and as the water temps decline, fish will migrate to the shallows in search of food and suitable water conditions thus opening the door to easier catches on moving baits. Where do we start? The answer to that question is wrapped up in the fall bass habits. Creeks will be your starting place and finding the shad will lead you to some of the best bass fishing of the year.

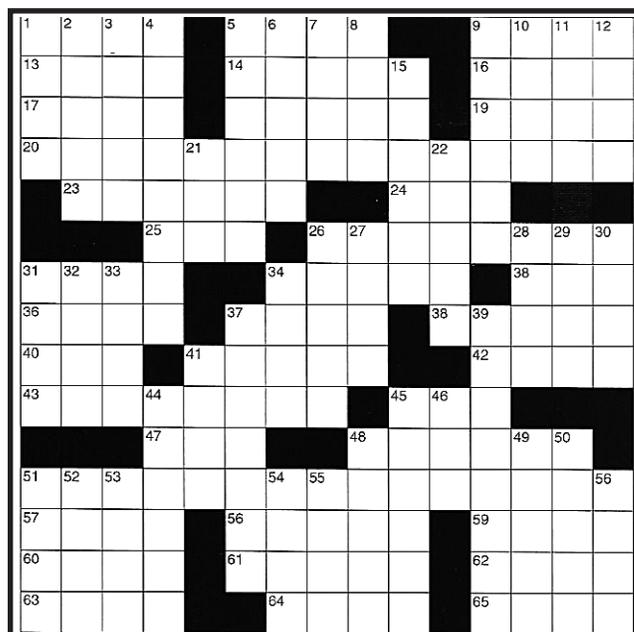

Gear up with a top water for the early bites and focus on any vegetation that you can find such as milfoil, lily pads or alligator grass. Zara Spooks are my all time favorite and will draw strikes from the largest bass around. Buzzbaits, Yellow Magic's and frogs are also excellent choices and truly have a place on the deck of the boat. Once that bite tapers off, I will switch to a Texas rig worm of any sort and work the same areas until noon. If the vegetation is more sparse, use a 1/8th ounce tungsten weight with a 3/0 hook and rig it with your favorite worm. Trick worms, curl tails or speed worms all work great. For thicker grass, move up to a 5/16 ounce weight so that it will get down to where the monsters live. As for worm colors, stick to dark hues on cloudy days and more translucent shades on sunny days. If the water has pitiful clarity, go with the darker colors. If the wind is howling, head to the windiest bank and throw a Talon spinner bait. If the water is on the clear side, use the willow blades. Murky water will call for the Colorado blades.

Falling water temps will also issue in a better

Trainings on Chronic Wasting Disease Sample Collection Set in the Panhandle and Trans-Pecos

As part of Texas' increased chronic wasting disease (CWD) surveillance effort, state agencies have partnered to provide training opportunities for landowners/managers, taxidermists, and veterinarians on tissue sample collection for CWD testing.

Individuals who complete a 3 hour classroom and hands on workshop will be certified to collect samples from CWD susceptible species, such as white-tailed deer, mule deer, elk, red deer and sika under the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) Certified CWD Post-mortem Sample Collector training program.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, TAHC and Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service have partnered to coordinate two CWD post-mortem sample collector trainings in the Panhandle and Trans-Pecos.

Classes are scheduled from 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 26 in Amarillo at the AgriLife Extension Building, 6500 W. Amarillo Blvd., and Nov. 17 in Van Horn at the Van Horn Convention Center, 1801 W. Broadway St.

To register for either training class contact Laura Leal with TAHC at (512) 650-0475 or email laura.leal@tahc.texas.gov.

Individuals who participated in trainings last year are required to attend this year's training to receive necessary check station supplies. Space is limited to the first 50 participants for each training and registration is mandatory to attend.

Current regulations mandate that CWD susceptible species harvested in parts of the Panhandle and Trans Pecos be tested for the disease. Details on testing requirements under the TAHC herd certification program, and additional information about CWD is available online.

"The Moon Report"
"Forks Fall Fishing Is Here!"

By Terri Moon

Not only am I excited that the fall fishing is finally here – but, now I get to enjoy my favorite time of year in the new Skeeter Solera 205! This boat is truly a "luxury liner"! As much as I loved the Solera 189 – that little extra length in the 205 has just been perfect for when I have an extra person or two in the boat! Then to top it off, it is rigged with a 250 Yamaha four stroke motor – (WOW...that's the biggest motor I've ever owned)! I'm still in the "break-in" stage with it, so I have no idea how fast this beast will go! But, in the meantime, I love how this boat takes the rough water! Many thanks to Skeeter Boats for including the crappie fishing market in their program and doing it in style!

So needless to say, I'm pretty excited about the next couple of months fishing! It's "TROPHY" time and this includes all species. With the weather starting to cool off, the crappie are showing up in the mouths of the creek arms and will work up to secondary creek arms. We have found them as shallow as 8 ft. and as deep as 20 ft. around bridges and brush piles and standing timber. We are also finding them in the mouths of the coves in 20-28 ft. of water, one to three cranks off the bottom. For a productive day you will need to move around a lot until these fish start to bunch up.

Water clarity and light conditions play a role in what color will produce a strike. One color might work in the morning and they'll want something different in the afternoon so don't be afraid to change it up! Also, you might need to change up your presentation. They might want it on the fall or dead still – but, however you present it, don't take your eyes off your line. You will see a bite before you feel it.

The colors producing for us right now have been black and chartreuse or grey and chartreuse when there is cloud cover. Then on brighter days we're using chartreuse and white or pink with blue tail or white.

For those of you looking for bream, they have been in 5 to 15 ft. in brush or timber and also around the cross/members of the bridges. Berkley Gulp minnows in shad color, chartreuse or white – crappie nibbles, nightcrawlers or crickets will work – it's all fun!

A big thanks to the "Army of Angels" who helped me get my new boat ready for business! You are all so much appreciated!

I also want to wish Scuba Steve a very "Happy Birthday" this month and wish him all the best on his new adventure. We all thank you for all your help over the years and especially for the loving care you took of "Sweet Buddy". We will all miss you terribly – but, Buddy will miss you the MOST! I hope everyone will show Buddy a little extra love to help him through this major change in his life. Safe travels Scuba – (maybe you and Buddy can facetime!)

Thanks again to everyone who fished with me last month and I'm looking forward to all of you that are coming to fish with me this month!

Sending thoughts and prayers to my family in Missouri and looking forward to my mom & dad coming for a visit! (# prayers for safe travel)

"Knowing What To Look For!"

By Michael McFarland

The days are shortening, nights are cooling and leaves are turning colors on the trees, fall is underway. I love this time of year for the simple fact that less fishermen are on the water and less fishing pressure offers more areas and spots to fish. This time of year before I begin fishing, I will spend a majority of my time searching for baitfish that have migrated up the major creeks and arms. Once I find the right size and type of bait I'm looking for I will begin either fishing or searching with my sonar for the bass. Bass will migrate with the baitfish in the fall and spend most of the fall gorging themselves until water temps begin to cool and the baitfish leave heading back to deeper water. I use my side scan set at about 50 to 75 ft left and right and simply idle down the middle of the creek until I come across the bait. By scanning 100 to 150 at a time I can cover and eliminate an immense amount of water which in turn increases my fishing time and productivity.

It is very important to understand that the more round the balls of baitfish are, the less they have been attacked and actually are very safe in the round ball form. Balls of baitfish that are elongated or broken up are usually under attack or have been recently attacked (attached image). In the fall this is what I am looking to find before I begin wetting a line. I hope this may help you find the bass a little quicker this fall and I wish you all great fishing. Thelakeforkguide.com

TPWD Inland Fisheries Seeking Partners for Habitat Restoration in Texas Reservoirs

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) Inland Fisheries staff conduct dozens of habitat restoration projects each year to enhance fish habitat in Texas' aging reservoirs. But fisheries biologists can't do these large-scale projects alone, they rely on Friends of Reservoirs partners to help make Texas fishing the best it can be.

Although many Texas reservoirs benefit from established Friends of Reservoirs chapters, TPWD is looking to expand the number of partners around the state who are interested in participating in habitat projects at their local reservoirs.

"We are targeting conservation-minded groups like fishing clubs, master naturalist groups, lake-side homeowner's associations, high school fishing teams, conservation organizations and virtually any public group that is interested in working with us to improve fishing or habitat for fish in public lakes," said Dave Terre, TPWD Chief of Inland Fisheries Management and Research.

Habitat restoration projects conducted by TPWD fisheries biologists and local Friends of Reservoirs chapters range from placing GPS-marked natural and artificial fish attractors in reservoirs to increase angler catch rates to planting native vegetation along the shoreline to provide fish and wildlife habitat, improve water quality, and prevent shoreline erosion. Friends of Reservoirs chapters are essential to making these projects happen by fundraising and recruiting volunteers to help assemble, haul and drop fish attractors in the lake and plant native vegetation along the shoreline.

Organizations interested in becoming partners on habitat restoration projects in their local lakes can send a representative for free to the Friends of Reservoirs 9th Annual Reservoir Fisheries Habitat Partnership Meeting the weekend of Oct. 6-7 at the Texas Freshwater Fisheries Center in Athens. The event will feature presentations on ongoing state and regional habitat projects along with information on permitting, structure, nuisance aquatic vegetation, establishing native vegetation and grant funding.

Pre-registration is required to attend the workshop. For more information or to pre-register contact Dave Terre at dave.terre@tpwd.texas.gov or (512) 389-4855.

There are currently 24 Friends of Reservoirs chapters partnered with TPWD to enhance their local lakes, a list that includes recent award winners like the Lake Fork Sportsman's Association, which was inducted into the Texas Freshwater Fishing Hall of Fame in 2018, and Lake Livingston Friends of Reservoirs, which was designated as a Conservation Wrangler by Texan By Nature in 2017. To learn more about these organizations, visit www.friendsofreservoirs.com.

Deadline Approaching to Enter Big Time Texas Hunts Drawing

Looking for an opportunity to fill a hole in this year's hunting calendar without breaking the bank? Hunters hoping for a chance at winning premium guided hunt packages through the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's Big Time Texas Hunts program have until Monday, Oct. 15 at 11:59 p.m. Hunters can enter to win any of 10 exciting premium guided hunt packages in this year's Big Time Texas Hunts drawing. All lodging and food is included and most of the packages allow winners to bring friends along to hunt. There are packages to hunt bighorn sheep, mule deer, white-tailed deer, pronghorn, alligator, waterfowl, upland game birds, wild hog and exotics.

New this year is an opportunity to hunt nilgai antelope in South Texas. The nilgai antelope - also called the "blue bull" - is a massive big game animal from southeast Asia that was introduced onto the famed King Ranch during the late 1920s. These impressive animals now thrive on the grasslands of South Texas where mature males can tip the scales at 700 pounds. Not only are nilgai huge, they are also a challenge to hunt. Their keen eyesight, hearing and sense of smell make them sensitive to predators and they spook easily.

"Big Time Texas Hunts allows everyone a chance to win unique hunting packages that are out of reach for most Texans. Beyond this, hunters can feel good about purchasing entries because all of the money raised is earmarked for wildlife conservation and public hunting projects," said Justin Dreibelbis, TPWD Private Lands and Public Hunting Program Director.

Big Time Texas Hunts raises over $600,000 each year for wildlife research, habitat conservation efforts, and public hunting programs in Texas. Over $8 million has been raised since the program began in 1998.

Big Time Texas Hunts entries are available online, under the "Hunting" category, for $9 each or for $10 each at license retailers, or by phone at (800) 895-4248. Call center hours are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. There is a required $5 administrative fee for each phone or online transaction, but unlimited items can be purchased (such as 2018-19 hunting and fishing licenses) during a single transaction for this $5 fee. You are not required to purchase or have a hunting or fishing license to buy Big Time Texas Hunts entries.

Big Time Texas Hunts is made possible with support from Toyota and the Texas Bighorn Society.

Recent Rains Provide Boost for Deer, New Challenges for Bowhunters

Texas' Archery-Only Hunting Season Opened Saturday, Sept. 29. "Hunting might be a little tough with the exceptional rainfall in September that has created a giant food plot of native forage across the state," said Alan Cain, TPWD whitetail deer program leader. "Deer may be visiting the feeders less frequently with the abundant forage, so hunters might rely on information gathered recently on their trail cameras to help narrow down windows of opportunity as to when deer are visiting feeder and blind locations."

Texas boasts a robust white-tailed deer population of about 4.6 million and the influx of new groceries on the ground should provide a boost of nutrition heading into the fall. It should also give wildlife managers some relief after range conditions across much of the state heading out of the summer doldrums began to decline.

"Range conditions had diminished somewhat with the long stretches of 100 degree weather and wind," Cain noted. "The majority of the state had reasonable forb production and good brush green-up this past spring, which provided a good foundation of native forage to get deer off to a good start in terms of antler growth and fawn production. By late August, we were seeing preferred forbs becoming less available for deer. The rains came at an opportune time."

While the archery-only season kicked off September 29 and runs through Nov. 2, the general gun season opener is still more than a month away on Nov. 3. A special youth-only weekend season is set for Oct. 27-29. The general season runs through Jan. 6, 2019 in North Texas and Jan. 20, 2019 in South Texas. A late youth-only season is also slated for Jan. 7-20, 2019. For additional late season deer hunting opportunities and county specific regulations, consult the 2018-19 Outdoor Annual of hunting and fishing regulations.

Hunters are also reminded to review the TPWD chronic wasting disease regulations for information about CWD testing requirements and carcass movement restrictions for the 2018-19 season. Also as a reminder, Texas hunters harvesting deer, elk, moose, or other susceptible species in other CWD-positive states must also comply with carcass movement restrictions when bringing those harvested animals back into Texas. Additionally, the Texas Animal Health Commission has mandatory testing requirements that apply to elk, red deer, sika, moose, and reindeer.

New Experimental Mule Deer Antler Restriction Regulation Takes Effect this Hunting Season in the SE Panhandle

Hunters pursuing mule deer this fall in Briscoe, Childress, Cottle, Floyd, Hall, and Motley counties will be required to comply with a new antler restriction regulation that prohibits harvest of any mule deer buck with a main beam outside spread of less than 20 inches.

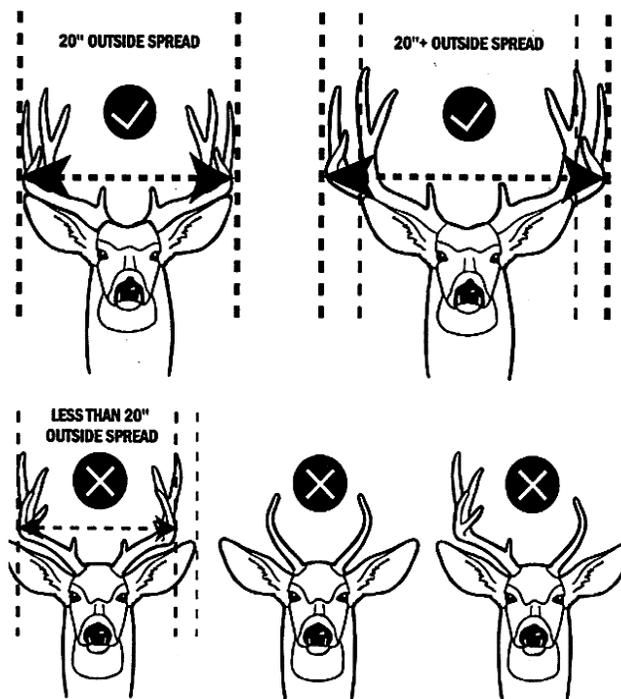

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is implementing the new experimental regulation with the goal of improving buck age structure and sex ratios in these counties by reducing excessive hunting pressure on younger bucks. A similar antler restriction for white-tailed deer has been in place for a number of years in other parts of the state, and has successfully shifted the age class structure toward older bucks.

Mule deer archery-only season in the antler restriction counties occurs Sept. 29 - Nov. 2, with the general firearm season occurring Nov. 17 - Dec. 2. Information about hunting licenses can be found online.

To protect young bucks, TPWD has set the minimum legal outside spread of the main beams at 20 inches based upon many years of harvest data. In other words, any buck having main beams with an outside spread smaller than 20 inches is NOT legal to harvest. Additionally, any buck with at least one unbranched antler (e.g., spike) is NOT legal to harvest, unless the outside spread of the main beams is 20 inches or more in width. Based upon data collected by TPWD, the average ear-tip to ear-tip spread of 2 ½ to 8 ½+ year old mule deer bucks with ears in the alert position is about 21 inches. This information on ear-tip to ear-tip measurement can be a useful guide to mule deer hunters attempting to field-judge mule deer bucks with at least a 20-inch main beam outside spread.

Mule Deer Buck Antler Restrictions Guide

The experimental antler restriction will be conducted for four hunting seasons. TPWD wildlife officials will collect age and antler measurements at voluntary hunter-harvest check stations to assess the effects of the regulation on buck age structure. Annual aerial surveys will be used to document sex ratios. Based on findings after four years, TPWD will either propose to extend the regulation, modify the antler restriction, or permanently terminate.

To gather the most harvest data possible, TPWD will offer incentives to hunters who check their harvest. Hunters who bring their harvest to a check station will be entered in drawings for items such as rifles, lifetime hunting licenses, and gift cards donated by Dallas Safari Club, the Texas Panhandle Chapter of the Dallas Safari Club, the Mule Deer Foundation, and Houston Safari Club. These data are essential to effectively evaluate the success of the experimental antler restriction.

More information regarding mule deer seasons, the experimental antler restriction, check station locations, dates and hours of operation, check station incentives, and drawing results is available online.

"October is One of the Best Months For Fishing on Lake Fork!"

By Andrew Grills

October is one of the better months for fishing here on Lake Fork, and not too many folks realize that. Fishing generally gets better and better throughout the month. It will continue to improve as the weather cools down. While occasionally catch a big fish, October is more of a "numbers" month. I encourage customers with young children, or novice anglers, to come enjoy getting their line stretched this month!

The water temperature is still in the upper 70's as I write this report, but hopefully that will drop sooner than later. The water level is 1.83' below full pool. We had a pretty wet September, that brought the lake back up a little. That makes for a tough level when it comes to fishing. I would prefer it lower, or completely full. We will just have to make the best of it.

There are plenty of fish shallow, for those who like that style of fishing. Topwater early, then light Texas rigs, small swimbaits, and jigs are working for the shallow fishermen I know. The drop shot will continue to produce as well.

There are some fish in deeper water as well. Look for fish out at the ends of points, on main lake humps, and pond dams. Road beds always get good in the fall as well. More finesse type presentations will do best this time of year. When the water really cools down near the end of the month, the bigger fish will start to show up with more regularity.

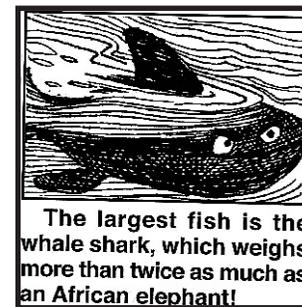

If I can be of any assistance on your upcoming trip, please don't hesitate to contact me. Good luck out there. "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him." John 4:9.

Phillip Montano was fishing Lake Fork in September when he caught this hawg weighing 11.18-pounds on a football jig in 12 to 14 feet of water. (Courtesy Photo)

The largest fish is the whale shark, which weighs more than twice as much as an African elephant!

The grunt is a fish named for the grunting sounds it makes when removed from the water.

deep bite as bass start to group up. Deep structures, road beds, points and ridges should all come alive as these fish search for food to fatten up for the winter. Once the afternoon rolls around, start looking deep for bait and you will find bass that just flat live there year round. The electronics are key to this success and once you locate a sizeable wad of fish, pitch out a marker buoy and go to work. You can start with a Carolina rig using any big worm to fool the bass. Blue fleck, watermelon red and plum all work well. A stand-up head is also a great tool for these fish using the same worms. My mantra is "if I can see them, I can catch them". It's game on for video fishing and the drop shot rules the roost for this type of play. Put the worm right in front of their nose and wait for the rod to load up. It don't get much better than that. If you spot the big arc's suspended, dig out a 5 inch Talon spoon, count it down and hold on. A magnum fluke will work equally well if the wind is not howling. Use a heavy rod and 20lb line for this application.

If you are headed out to Lake Fork in October searching for the trophy of a lifetime, I would love to be a part of this trophy quest. I still have a few dates open in October and some in November. I also have gift certificates available if you have friends or loved one's who have dreamt of landing a huge bass. You can contact me at 409 782-4269 or e-mail me at skeet21c@aol.com. # Texas Trails Bassmasters of Lake Fork

By Kenny LaDuke

Lake Tyler was the site of the Texas Trails Bassmasters 11th tournament of the 2017 - 2018 season.

Lake Tyler is always a fun lake to fish, with the choice of two bodies of water that is connected. This allows anglers multiple ways of catching fish. The anglers that fished to their strength was able to catch a limit of fish and have bragging rights for this month.

Chris Large with a 5 fish limit that weighed 13.95 lbs. for 1st place. Kenny LaDuke brought a 5 fish limit for 2nd place with 8.51 lbs. Leon Davis brought in 5 fish weighing 7.69 lbs. for 3rd place. Chris Large also had the big bass of the derby weighing 4.53 lbs.

Texas Trails Bassmasters is a club around Lake Fork, Texas. and they fish surrounding lakes with one tournament a month ( mostly on Sat.) and a two day club championship. If you are an angler that is looking for a great group of fellow outdoorsmen, then please feel free to contact me, Kenny LaDuke, or Don Hampton 903-360-6994 and join our club. We have had several new members join this year and you could be part of the fun.

Wylers Aerial Tramway Closed to the Public

After nearly six decades in operation, including many years as the only public tram in Texas, the Wylers Aerial Tramway at Franklin Mountains State Park is closed until further notice.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD), which has operated the tram for the past 19 years, made the decision to suspend operations following an engineering analysis conducted as part of a deferred maintenance project that was planned to begin later this fall. Despite passing annual inspections, the latest analysis concluded the tram has surpassed its life expectancy and is no longer suited for public use. Out of an abundance of caution, TPWD has closed the tramway while it considers its options.

The Wylers Aerial Tramway was originally designed to provide maintenance access for television transmission towers in the Franklin Mountains until it was donated to TPWD in 1997. The department re-opened it to the public in 2001 following extensive renovation.

The construction of the tram predates the establishment of national tramway standards and, despite its clean record and successful annual inspections, the engineering review conducted this summer recommends that the tramway be updated to meet today's standards, which would require a complete overhaul of the tramway.

Replacement of the tram is estimated to cost millions of dollars. TPWD does not have the financial resources to execute a capital construction project of this size at this time.

Wylers Aerial Tramway at Franklin Mountains State Park features two aerial cable cars that travel over the jagged mountain and rock formations on the east side of the Franklin Mountains to Ranger Peak. From the summit, about 45,000 visitors per year experience a 360-degree view of two countries and three states.

Lake Austin Fish Habitat Enhanced by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Local Partners

Lake Austin, once considered to be one of the top trophy bass fishing destinations in the nation, has experienced a decline in natural fish habitat in recent years due to efforts to control nuisance aquatic vegetation. Without plentiful habitat it can be a challenge for anglers to target sport fish that seek cover in vegetation, like largemouth bass.

In an effort to restore balance to the reservoir and provide the habitat that sport fish need to thrive, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD) fisheries biologists and volunteers from the Texas Tournament Zone Friends of Reservoirs (FOR) chapter conducted a joint project to supplement fish habitat with arti-cial fish attractors in the lake September 25.

"Until natural aquatic vegetation becomes established again in Lake Austin, these fish habitat structures will provide target areas for anglers to improve their chances of catching fish," said Marcos De Jesus, TPWD Inland Fisheries District Supervisor for San Marcos-Austin.

The fish habitat structures sunk at 13 sites on Sept. 25th include artificial Mossback trophy trees which were secured by custom heavy anchors and marked with buoys and GPS coordinates. These long-lasting, environmentally friendly structures made from PVC and composite materials attract concentrations of sport fish by providing cover and food for prey fish in the small spaces between the branches.

This habitat complements a project conducted by TPWD fisheries biologists and partners in April which included the sinking of 50 concrete pillars near the dam at Lake Austin. The heavy 5 by 3-foot pillars, originally used as Camp Swift barrack foundations, create an artificial reef environment that will withstand currents during flood events.

"Habitat structures need heavy anchoring to withstand strong water current during flood pulses in this riverine system," De Jesus said. "The heavy concrete pillars and the anchored artificial fish attractors that we placed this year should provide anglers with high quality fishing opportunities for many years to come. Anglers who want to target these locations can find GPS coordinates on our Locations of Fish Attractors webpage.

The artificial fish structure project was funded in part by a $20,000 grant from the Reservoir Fisheries Habitat Partnership/FOR and matching dollars from Bass Pro Shops in Round Rock and proceeds from sales of TPWD's Largemouth Bass Conservation License Plate.

"Partnerships with groups like TTZ, the City of Austin, Bass Pro Shops, and angler support through license plate sales and fishing license sales allow us to become more efficient at restoring fish habitat," De Jesus said.

Lake Austin, considered the eighth most popular trophy bass destination in the nation by B.A.S.S. in 2014, is also home to the 24th largest bass ever caught in Texas on the statewide list of Top 50 Largemouth Bass. Additionally, the lake is home to good quality bluegill, red-breast, and redear fishing, and has low-density populations of flathead and blue catfish.

Lake Austin is classified as infested with zebra mussels. Anglers are reminded to clean, drain and dry boats, trailers, livewells/bait buckets, and other gear before traveling to another water body. Draining water is required by law and possession and transport of zebra mussels is illegal.
